

8 Tips To Dress For Interview Success

Interviewer creates first impression on you by looking at what you wear. Therefore, deciding your attire is important to present yourself as the right candidate to be hired.

1. The appropriate interview attire depends on which industry you'll be interviewing, as well as the geographic location and time of year.
2. Take time to survey on the Internet about the company, industry and competitors to determine suitable interview outfits.
3. Not sure about it, call the company's HR department and ask what they say about the dress code.
4. Remember being slightly over dressed, better than show up looking too casual.
5. Don't have an appropriate outfit? Invest in your wardrobe now.
6. Make sure that your clothes are cleaned and ironed.
7. Avoid wearing thick make-up (depend on your industry), perfume or cologne.
8. Wear jewelry that are suitable for the job/company/industry.

Perception is reality, as the old saying goes. What kind of image you want to present during your interview? Choose an outfit that will create a that image and give positive perception, make sure is appropriate in given the time of year, the weather, your geographic location, and company.
